understanding predict one's own reactions/emotions (reflective) introspective and self-reflective capacities. a deep intrapersonal (social) sensitivity to others' moods, feelings, temperaments and interpersonal action, along with the ability to train responses.

understanding the underlying principles of a causal system. (spatial) spatial judgment and the ability to have a sense of image of. (symbolic) having a set of summary images or graphics iconic (with reflexive use of language) limitations of language and systematic ironic (with written language) heroes, wonder and awe, extremes and limits of reality, collections and details. (with oral language) stories, metaphors, binary movement, tension, pain, pleasure. sight, hearing, touch — emotions — balance, forms of...